STAR PARADE

John Curry - Canterbury

Tall, steady John Curry has reaped nearly every honor in Sydney soccer in the four years he has been in Australia.

Since joining Canterbury from his native Belfast he has helped his club win two premierships, the Ascot-Federation Cup twice and the Ampol Trophy in 1958.

He has also represented the Federation against the Costa Ricans and Fiji but, because of a grave injury last season, still has to achieve interstate selection.

Born in 1936, Curry represented Northern Ireland in an Under 18 match against England at Newcastle-on-Tyne.

John [illegible]

The game was drawn 3:3 and John impressed English talent scouts, but he chose to return home to his club, "49th Old Boys".

That proved a wise decision as he was transfered the following year to one of the country's top clubs, Distillery.

After a spell in the reserves he moved into the firsts and never looked back from then on.

His greatest disappointment in his Irish era was ill-timed tonsilitis, which deprived him of an International Youth cap when only 19.

In 1957, this strictly amateur player decided to migrate to Australia.

Australian soccer has been the richer for that choice and his club, Canterbury, has enjoyed tremendous success since the lean Irishman graced the Berries' [illegible] and-gold.

On [illegible] he catches the [illegible]ly.

[illegible]uth), Alan and Fra[illegible] seems [illegible] side, Ray Marshall, Des [illegible]ly [illegible] ing to improve his game all along so that he will be ready when the FIFA ban is rescinded and Australia called on to play internationals.

His fondest wish is to play for his adopted country and all we can say is that we share this hope as few players would do more credit to Australian soccer on the international scene.

John Curry is very happy in Australia where he has found soccer fame and maybe, he hopes, a right girl to marry in the not too distant future.

HIGHLIGHT OF THE SEASON

PRAGUE, P. HELLENIC IN VITAL DECIDER

Leaders Prague will visit ambitious Pan Hellenic in one of the highlights of the season on Sunday, July 30.

If Prage wins their competition lead could be enough to ensure the minor premiership.

Pan Hellenic, of course, have totally different ideas and the players available to implement them.

Granite-like defences

With granite-like defenses, both sides will rely on their forwards to win this vital match.

Prague appear to have a better attack with newcomer Grenville Jones the centre of interest and will again rely on [illegible] Burgoyne has some of his inspired days he could prove just as valuable a match-winner.

It appears safer to tip a win for Prague after 90 minutes of hard, fast and thrilling soccer, which should draw one of the season's biggest crowds

Auburn and Hakoah were both victims of big upsets last weekend, so their Mona Park clash will call for some redeeming.

Hakoah, who have always won at Mona Park, will find it very hard on Sunday because Auburn are a different side at home.

The Blues, with a formidable line-up, on paper at least, just don't seem capable of clicking for more than a couple of consecutive games.

Auburn's forward-line is proving their downfall.

Last week their defence [illegible] his rightful centre-half, the team will again field a solid defence.

I tip history to repeat itself and Hakoah to win.

Canterbury will have to be at their best again as Gladesville will be no push-over at Drummoyne Oval.

However, the Berries were so brilliant last Saturday that it is hard to see Gladesville stopping them.

Curry and his wing halves, Brown and Campbell will take care of midfield to send their forwards towards a goal which Hough can be expected to defend gallantly.

Top class at Woonona

Saturday's most interesting match will be played at Woonona Oval between South Coast United and Polonia N.S.

Last weekend SCU had their best win of the season.

Their opponents, on the other hand, experienced a humiliating reversal.

On their home ground the Provincials will be a tough nut to crack, and I am forecasting a draw.

Polonia must improve on last weekend and Kelly's duel with Galeczka could decide the outcome of the game.

Will he master little Joe as he did Raffi Levi and add another scalp to United's belt?

Sklarek will not allow Van der Gaag as much room to move, and if the big Dutchman is halted it will take much of the sting out of the local attack.

Bankstown, showing signs of improvement after a bad slump, could return to the winning list when opposed to Budapest at the Sydney Athletic Field, tomorrow, Saturday, July 29.

Budapest's forwards, with only two goals to their credit in seven games, are very suspect and Madden and Co. could easily subdue them, particularly if the mercurial Schauman is well marked.

It should be a very close match, with the odds sligtly in Bankstown's favor.

APIA, at home must be favored to make it three in a row, although the gain of their first point will give Sydney Austral an added incentive.

APIA supporters and officials are quite definite that the team can still make the semis, so it is up to the players to keep on winning matches and hoping their rivals beat each other.

On Saturday, Lambert Park should be the scene of another APIA win, but in the light of Austral's dramatic finish last weekend the score could be very close at the finish.

WEEKEND FULL OF SURPRISES

Last weekend's rain (?) brought some startling surprises to Sydney soccer.

Perhaps none was bigger than Sydney Austral's fantastic burst, which in 15 minutes (!) resulted in four goals and gave them their first competition point of the season.

Another big upset was Hakoah's defeat at home by South Coast, led by that great Jim Kelly.

With this Hakoah has, at [illegible] was replaced by the splendid Canterbury.

Their 5:0 win over highly-placed Polonia should also be included among the surprises as few, if any, had thought that Galeczka and Co. would be so heavily defeated.

Prague escaped very narrowly against Gladesville and Pan Hellenic's run of wins came to a shock end at Wiley Park.

Home defeat

In Second Division Balgownie suffered its first home defeat in 1961 and thus allowed Yugal to take a three-point lead in the promotion race.

Julia recorded its second win of the season and show every sign of their intention and ability to escape relegation.

These were the features of last weekend's matches:—

● In First Division only one team could win away from home — and that was South Coast, which recorded its first ever win agains Hakoah in Sydney.

● For the sixth time Budapest did not score a goal, and for the first time this year Polonia's attack also proved fruitless.

● In Second Division Yugal, hot favorites for the title, have scored 20 goals in their last four matches.

● Granville's reserves lost 1:6 at Balgownie — and they were until last weekend the only unbeaten Federation team in any grade.

PAUL DEAN

Management decision:

As we go to Press we learn that the Management Committee, at it's meeting last Tuesday night, agreed in principle to the introduction of Players Identity Cards for next season, as we suggest in our editorial on P. 2.

EDITORIAL

IDENTITY CARDS

About the middle of last year the Federation Council passed a resolution.

It was a pretty good resolution — something we have been clamouring for years: the issue of players' identity cards.

The resolution, proposed by Pan Hellenic and seconded by Prague, was constitutionally passed and duly recorded in the minutes.

But, has not been, as yet, carried out.

The present system of "team sheets" lends itself to genuine errors, misunderstandings, and . . . cheating.

Under the proposed (and resolved) system, every player, registered with the Federation, would be issued with an identity card, incorporating his photograph and stamped by the Federation.

Before the start of each match the 11 cards would be handed to the referee who would check them against the players.

No card — no play.

The cards would be kept by the referee in his dressing room until the end of the match when they would be returned to the clubs.

Should the referee send a man off, he would retain that player's card and dispatch it to the Federation, together with his written report.

The cost of introducing and maintaining this system would be dwarfed by the order it would provide.

It would not be a bit more complex than the present method, yet — a thousand times safer and neater.

We suggest, the Federation introduce this sys-

The resolution to adopt all this had been passed; it's only a little matter of carrying it out.

WORLD CLUB CUP

The Portuguese Benfica Lisbon and the Uruguay Penarol will meet twice for the unofficial title of "World Club Championship".

The first match will be played at Lisbon on September 4, and the return on September 17 at Montevideo.

The dates have been set by the FIFA and the UEFA together.

SPAIN

The Spanish FA is toying with the idea of reducing the First Division to 12 clubs.

The request has been made by the leading clubs which consider that tours abroad and overseas would help them keep solvent more easier than a long drawn-out league season.

Real Madrid's example is vivid enough — for a five-match tour of the U.S.A., Real will receive all expenses, plus £115,000.

WEST GERMANY

One of Germany's best known clubs, Rot-Weiss Essen has been relegated to Second Division.

Only two years ago Essen was one of the top sides in the Western Division and had such internatio[illegible] stars in [illegible] team [illegible]

How[illegible] in 1961 Es[illegible]n finished 15th in the league and was relegated.

ARGENTINA

Although Kubala (Barcelona) and Piantoni (Reims) will not go, after all, to Argentina, the country's leading club, River Plate will still have a formidable side for the 1961-62 season.

The forward line will include four importations — Roberto and Moacyr from Brazil, Pepillo from Spain and Perez (Uruguay).

However, Argentine soccer officials reluctantly admit the fact that their country's best forward are outside of Argentina, Angellila and Sivori in Italy and Di Stefano in Spain...

GREECE

The fantastically successful European tour of Brazil's Santos (Pele & Co.) suffered a setback at Athens, where the country's leading team, Olimpiakos beat them 2:1.

This was the Brazilians' first defeat in Europe this year.

The match was witnessed by Stravros Kaludis, a former player of Olimpiakos who, when his club scored its second goal, had a heart seizure and died on the spot.

HUNGARY

The country's soccer manager, Lajos Baroti is having a bad trot.

Only recently he resigned because of lack of co-operation by the clubs, then, two days later, withdrew his resignation.

Now, according to a French report, Baroti last week became involved in a street brawl in Budapest and as a result was promptly suspended by the Association from all soccer activities

Before deciding upon a full-time soccer career Baroti was a teacher at Szeged.

66TH NSW v. QUEENSLAND MATCH ON SUNDAY

NSW will play Queensland for the 66th time since 1890 on Sunday, July 30, in Brisbane.

Out of the 65 matches played to-date, NSW had won 38, Queensland 19 and 8 had been drawn.

The first match in 1890 in Sydney was a 1-all draw.

The teams met last year in the Melbourne Interstate Carnival and played a 4:4 draw in a 70 minutes match.

Sunday's team will only include players of clubs playing their premiership competition games the previous day, Saturday.

Queensland is taking the match very seriously and a 16 man squad, solely Hellenic and Azzurri players, has been in training for the last three weeks.

The following squad has been selected to represent NSW.

A. Iglesias (APIA), J. Bout (Sydney Austral), J. Gergely (Budapest), A. Ringland (Polonia N.S.), S. Sklarek (Polonia N.S.), F. Bottalico (APIA), J. Kelly (Sth. Coast), J. Harris (Sth. Coast), L. Baumgartner ((APIA), V. Wentzel (APIA), J. Galeczka (Polonia N.S.), J. Wong (Polonia N.S.), B. Wainwright (Bankstown), J. O'Brien (Wallsend), J. Simmonds (Newcastle Austral).

Jim Kelly has been appointed captain.

Messrs R. Walker and A. Burton will accompany the team as managers.

The Queenslanders have an impressive record this season including a 7:1 win over Victoria and a 13:2 victory against the Fijians.

The match will boost the code in Queensland and pave the way for future Interstate matches preferably on a competetive scale.

Jim Kelly edges Van Gaalen out

With only seven more competition rounds to go Auburn's Franz Van Gaalen has lost the lead in the American Health Studio £100 awards to South Coast United's skipper Jim Kelly by a fraction of a decimal.

Premiership finals will not be included.

UNSUNG HEROES RECOGNIZED

By Trevor Hilton

To me the most impressive feature of an interesting round last weekend was the indomitable spirit end enthusiasm of some 5,000 supporters who turned out in such appalling weather to watch the Sunday games.

Such enthusiasm deserves the utmost support from clubs and players alike — clubs by making sure every possible facility for the public comfort is provided and players by ensuring a tip-top display.

An encouraging feature was the fact that at long last those hardworking and all too often unsung heroes of soccer, wing halves, got some recognition.

It was particularly gratifying in the case of Canterbury's Don Brown and Geoff Campbell.

These two may not be the most highly polished players in the game — but when it comes to non-stop work both in defence and attack, they have few equals. Yet they seldom make the headlines.

In my view it was these, two plus centre half John Curry who were responsible for the defeat of Polonia-North Side in a match, which, despite the score, was always interesting.

Particularly so in the first 25 minutes when both teams were struggling for mastery.

It was in that spell the Canterbury halves gradually got a stranglehold on the Polonia-North Side attack; at the same time the Polonia halves were grasping the swiftly switching Canterbury attack tightly.

In the end it was the Canterbury trio who first established ascendacy and from then on they were able to supply and drive their own attack.

I have long admired Bankstown's new coach Frank Broome as a player. He was one of the best wingers of all time.

But as a trainer-coach his career has not been exactly marked with success — possibly because such clubs as Exeter, Notts County and Southend are not such as to delight the connoisseurs of good football.

It is surprising, therefore, to read Frank Broome, after a week out here, saying our standard is only comparable to many fourth and third division teams.

Unless there has been a fantastic improvement over there in the last couple of years, I think Frank is being too condesscending.

In any case, the members of the visiting FA team a few weeks back — who did not see the best of games — certainly had a higher opinion.

As I have.

Admittedly I don't think any of our part time trained teams could last out a full English game in their present state of fitness.

But I am quite convinced our best teams could produce a brand of soccer superior to anything to be found in the fourth division in England.

However, until we are back in FIFA and get teams out here on tour, I suppose we can only make a rough estimate.

But I still think Frank was way out, particularly since he has still to see any of our teams playing under normal conditions.

TAKE MY TIP . . .

South Coast v. Polonia: 1958 3:1 (a), 7:3 (h); 1959: 3:3 (a), 2:1 (h); 1960: 5:5 (a), 4:5 (h); 1961: 1:3 (a). I think a draw may be the result.

Pan Hellenic v. Prague: 1961: 0:2 (a). Tip Prague.

Auburn v. Hakoah: 1957: 0:0 (a), 3:2 (h); 1958: 1:0 (a), 0:4 (h); 1959: 1:2 (a), 1:1 (h); 1960: 1:1 (a), 1:2 (h); 1961: 2:3 (a). Auburn doesn't usually fare well at home against Hakoah so tip the visitors.

Gladesville v. Canterbury: 1957: 4:2 (a), 4:3 (h); 1958: 1:0 (a), 0:1 (h); 1959: 1:2 (a), 0:2 (h); 1960: 2:3 (a), 3:2 (h); 1961: 1:2 (a). Another close encounter may end with Canterbury's win.

Budapest v. Bankstown: 1959: 3:3 (a), 7:2 (h); 1960: 5:3 (a), 0:3 (h); 1961: 3:2 (a). Bankstown seems to "suit" Budapest, so tip the home team.

Sydney Austral v. APIA: 1957: 2:0 (a), 3:3 (h); 1958: 0:1 (a), 1:0 (h); 1959: 0:3 (a), 0:2 (h); 1960: 0:4 (a), 0:3 (h); 1961: 0:5 (a). Since 1958 the Australs have not even scored a goal against APIA, which is thus my tip. PAUL DEAN

SUMMING UP THE MATCHES

APIA adapted its game better to wet-weather football than Budapest, which tried, vainly, to use short passes in the mud. However, even so, the big difference between the two teams was in the forward lines. For APIA Wentzel had possibly his finest game, continuously foraging and starting attacks.

Prague played good positional football despite the conditions, particularly in the first half. They could only manage to score from a penalty however whilst Gladesville missed one. In the second half play was more even.

A tremendous display of leadership by captain, Jim Kelly paved the way for SCU's sensational win. The visitors were in control for most of the first half and their foraging halves, together with Van der Gaag had Hakoah on the run. After lemons Hakoah were far more purposeful but could not make up the leeway. It was Burns again who put paid to their chances with a fine opportunist goal. The winners adapted themselves perfectly to the wet and muddy conditions and, on the whole, deserved to win.

Pan Hellenic's forward-line seemed to lack punch. Their defence splendidly led by Toussis and Maurice, saved a vital point as Bankstown's great mobility and strong tackling [illegible] ly [illegible] The home team played well and [illegible] times fluctuating from one goal to another.

Auburn were headed for a huge win when they led 4:0 after 60 minutes, but Sydney Austral staged the season's most dramatic finish to equalize within fifteen minutes. Sydney Austral showed remarkable form reversal but Auburn's sudden collapse came completely unexpectedly.

After an even 40 minutes Canterbury clapped on the pace and when play resumed in the second half there was no doubt of Canterbury's superiority. The Berries' defence never put a foot wrong and efficiently subdued Polonia's otherwise dangerous, forward-line. Standard of play was high throughout as Polonia did show some classy moves before being "swamped" by the speedy Berries.

FOR AND AGAINST

WE LIKED:

- Canterbury's invitation to visiting Japanese midshipmen to attend last Saturday's game as guests of honour.
- Prague's Les Scheinflug appointed captain to mark his 200th appearance with the club last Sunday.
- Sydney Austral's tremendous rally to come back after a four goal deficit to win their first point of the season.

WE DID NOT LIKE:

- Officials with umbrellas "patrolling" the sidelines at Wentworth Park and obscuring the public's view.

- MELBOURNE -

From L. K. STONE

STH. MELB. HELLAS 1

WILHELMINA 2

GOALSCORERS: Karranyanis, penalty (Hellas), Bons 2, one penalty (Wilhelmina).

Wilhelmina, with a comfortable seat in the four and determined to stay there, hung on grimly in the dying minutes of a rough game to defeat a tenatious Hellas.

Capable referee Brown had his hands full throughout as players tempers frayed.

Hellas were without star defender Mandarakis and Wilhelmina were not allowed to include state coach Mike De Brueyekere who refused to play with Victoria in Tasmania because of inadequate provision against injury.

Estimated attendance 8,500, at Olympic Park, Saturday.

RICHMOND 3

HAKOAH 1

GOALSCORERS: Goettlicher 2, one penalty, Schumacher (Richmond); Villiers (Hakoah).

Richmond shocked a seemingly overconfident Hakoah with a great display to register their first State League victory.

For Hakoah, this was one of the so-called easy games that they could not afford to lose and this defeat will no doubt adversely affect their final four chances.

The spirited Richmond played extremely well, with their inside forward Gottlicher particularly prominent.

Estimated attendance 600 at Olympic Track, W. Heidelberg.

BOX HILL 4

JUVENTUS 1

GOALSCORERS: Kerksey, Patterson. Jackson, Bedford, (Box Hill); Accunzo (Juventus).

Box Hill surprisingly defeated Juventus in no uncertain manner at muddy Wembly Park, where courage and determination was just as vital as skill.

Former Juventus winger Trentini was outstanding in the Hillmen's commendable "back to the wall fight" to ease their relegation worries.

Juventus sadly missed their live-wire Barbazza, a State team selection in Tasmania.

Estimated attendance 900 at Wembley Park, Box Hill.

MELBOURNE 1

J.U.S.T. 0

GOALSCORER: Weinberg (Melbourne).

Despite the adverse ground condition both teams played attractive football with Melbourne the more polished side but ineffective in front of goal.

Both keepers Jankovic (JUST) and Gross (Melbourne) were superb and either of them can consider themselves unlucky not to have been included in the Victorian squad.

Estimated attendance 2,500 at Olympic Park, Sunday.

— o —

The matches between Moreland v. Polonia and Slavia v. George Cross scheduled for last weekend were postponed due to the large number of players from Polonia and George Cross playing for the State in Tasmania.

These two clubs supplied eleven players between them.

How they stand: Polonia, George Cross 25, Wilhelmina 24, Hellas, Hakoah 20, Slavia 18, Juventus 16, JUST 15, Melbourne 14, Moreland, Box Hill 8, Richmond 6.

- BRISBANE -

From LEN TODD

Hellenic has won the minor premiership for the second year in succession, and have not been defeated in a premiership in two seasons, or a total of 39 premiership matches.

They also appear to have the Hilton Shield won, and with the Ampol Cup and £500 under their belt, plus success over Prague and Wallsend, they are worthy champions.

The attack has scored 77 goals and the defence has conseded only 15.

Probable semi-finalists to fight out the premiership with Hellenic are Azzurri, St. Helens and Oxley.

At the bottom of the table, Grange-Thistle, defeated 5:2 by Blackstone, have no hope of pulling away.

Our Second Division will have a thrilling finish next Saturday, [illegible] Latrobe, leaders by [illegible] Merton, play[illegible] Merton [illegible]

This small ground usually gives the homesters a big break.

It could have an adverse effect on Latrobe, whose play has been a delight to watch this season.

The players Latrobe imported from Britain are all playing well, and the game could be in doubt until the final whistle.

A draw will be sufficient to give Latrobe the premiership.

- NEWCASTLE -

From PAUL MACKENZIE

There's no prize for the correct answer but never, in about 30 years of close interest in northern soccer, can I recall so many people guessing the likely winner of the premiership.

And, with only three series of matches yet to play, that's what it is — guesswork.

Wallsend, with 22 points, is one in front of Lake Macquarie and Awaba, which meet on Sunday, while Wallsend has to tackle the tough Adamstown team, at Adamstown, on Saturday.

In my book, these two matches could tell the table.

Till last week, it seemed likely that six teams would battle out the issue, but then Adamstown, West Wallsend and Cessnock, which were in fourth, fifth and sixth places respectively, went down with a bang.

Now the query is, which one of them will join the top three in the semi-final round?

With only three series of matches to play interest remains high and should continue that way, for here are the matches the top teams have yet to play. —

WALLSEND: Adamstown (away), Newcastle Australs (home), Cardiff (a).

AWABA: Lake Macquarie (a), West Wallsend (h), Cessnock (a).

LAKE MACQUARIE: Awaba (a), Cessnock (h), Adamstown (a).

ADAMSTOWN: Wallsend (h), Blacksmiths (a), Lake Macquarie (h).

WEST WALLSEND: Cardiff (h), Awaba (a), Mayfield United (h).

CESSNOCK: Blacksmiths (h), Lake Macquarie (a), Awaba (h).

If you can sort the winners out of that lot, you can win the Northern crystal-ball gazing championship.

The heightening interest in the premiership puzzle is responsible for an increasing attendance each weekend at matches.

Gate receipts have never been so high and indications are that they will reach record peaks in the next few weeks.

Given fair weather, the crowd at the Lake Macquarie-Awaba match on Sunday should, for the fourth time in six weeks, break the ground attendance record.

And there will be another big crowd at the Newcastle Austral-Mayfield United match at Wallsend, particularly since Austral defeated West Wallsend and Mayfield United beat Adamstown last weekend.

VICTORIA RETAIN F. A. TROPHY

Victoria retained the F.A. Trophy last weekend when it defeated Tasmania 3:0 in Hobart on Sunday after drawing 3:3 on Saturday.

Both matches were played in very muddy conditions and the Tasmanian adapted themselves much better to the wet weather although Victoria's greater polish did finally pay off.

GOALSCORERS: VICTORIA 3 (Hodgson 2, Barbazza) drew TASMANIA 3 (Worsey 3).

VICTORIA 3 (Hodgson 2, Jurecki) defeated TASMANIA 0.

SYDNEY CLUB HISTORY - No. 1

S. C. GRANVILLE - Australia's oldest

Granville, the centre of the Western Suburbs industrial area, has had to overcome many obstacles which could well have cut short its development and thus cost Australian soccer a very important page in its long and colorful history.

This club has the distinction of being the oldest established club in the Southern Hemisphere.

From its formation in 1885 right through to 1960 it earned and enjoyed First Division status — a record unequalled in Australian football.

In that period it has always remained true to the highest tradition of sportsmanship and the encouragement and development of the local junior players.

In its first year the Magpies won the Rainsford Trophy (State Cup) and over the next 75 years accumulated nine premierships, four State Cups, three Gardiner Cups and two Sydney Cups.

In addition, club has played in numerous finals for both premiership and minor trophies.

Perhaps one of the club's biggest obstacles came in 1940 when the Commonwealth Engineering Company resumed Clyde Oval, the Magpies' home ground, for industrial expansion.

Today, the club plays its matches on Macarthur Park, which at that time was rubbish tip with a creek running through it.

The building of Macarthur Park was carried out by players, officials and supporters at a time when materials were almost unavailable.

It was a tough job to undertake at that stage, but this proved a challenge to the then president, highly volatile but popular Frank GARSIDE.

Frank rallied the people of the district to petition their local council for the grant of land for a "home ground".

Hundreds of tons of soil had to be carted to the tip and dumped over the smouldering refuse, then levelled out and the grass planted.

After months of back-breaking work the club again had a home ground.

There were no seats or dressing rooms but the supporters, players and officials did not mind, all they wanted was a ground for their lads to play football on.

Macarthur Park now is recognised as one of Sydney's leading soccer grounds and stands as an everlasting memorial to Frank Garside's foresight and drive.

This same man also provided the Magpies with two of its top class post-war players.

Centre forward Alan, now retired, represented his country in matches against England, China, Hajduk, South Africa and New Zealand.

He still holds the club goal-scoring record of 43 goals, scored in 1953.

Centre half Frank jnr., who is six years younger than Alan, was an outstanding clubman and the backbone of the defence from 1951 to 1960.

The club's first record of a representative player was in 1890, when an inside forward named KERR represented NSW.

This is the first of a series of articles on the old established Australian Club teams.

We will publish the "Australian series" intermittently with the "Famous Club teams" series.

However, it is not hard to remember former Granville players whose names were and still are in some cases, household words in the homes of true soccer supporters.

Charlie Libabeater, Andy and Bob Henderson, Dick Fairweather, Charlie O'Connor, Dick Mirander, Bill and Geo Dand, Teddy Aicheson, Billy Mace, Alf Edwards, Stan Bourke, Kewpie Flynn, Reg Sanders, "A.B." Willick and Alf Jennings were some of the stalwarts of the pre-war period.

Since then Andy jnr. and Bill Henderson, Ken Vairy, Eric Hulme (who went to England to play for Portsmouth), Alan and Frank Garside, Ray Marshall, Des Barker, Bob McLelland and many others have made their mark in the memory of all who watched and enjoyed their play.

By John Holland

It is a real source of pride to the club that it won a State Cup in 1951 and premiership 1952 with 10 players who were born in the district and came up through Junior Association.

The one exception was full-back Bob McLelland, who migrated from Scotland at the age of 15 and up to then had not played for any other Australian club.

Over the years it has been the custom for international touring teams visiting Australia to meet Granville, usually in a mid-week match.

Seldom has the local side been outclassed in these fixtures.

It has often been said that the toughest match that the English professional side of 1951 played in Australia was against Granville District at Cumberland Oval.

In this hard, thrilling game there was no score at half time and the spectators were spellbound when 30 minutes of the second half had gone and the score stood at 2-all.

The home team eventually cracked under the play of the relentless Englishmen in the last 10 minutes of the game.

In matches against New Zealand, China, England, India, Fiji and club sides FK Austria and Hajduk the local team have a goal average of 35 for to 38 against.

It is inevitable that over a period of 75 years the fortunes of the club should fluctuate and this was shown when the club finished last in the 1941 competition, yet were State Cup finalists the same year.

A team-building programme was then commenced with local juniors and 10 years later the benefit of this scheme was realised when these lads took out both the premiership and State Cup.

The birth of the Federation in 1957 caught the club unawares because the then committee deferred their switch too long.

As a consequence such stalwarts as the Hendersons, Trisics, Pittioni, McLelland etc. were lost to the club.

Despite an impressive first year in the Federation ranks this loss was felt keenly by the Magpies.

Last year a decrease in the number of teams participating in the First Division cost them the first division status which they had held for 75 years.

Once again the Magpies are team building — again, relying mainly upon the products of their own local junior association.

Young players such as Neale Brisby, Kevin Thompson, Bob Barlow, Len Dunscombe, Ian McIntyre, John Crelley, John Stevens and Frank McCool have a tough road to follow, but the club has triumphed over similar adversity in the past.

The stage is now being set with these youngsters for another triumph — the Magpies return to their rightful place in the top bracket of Sydney's First Division clubs.

SECOND DIVISION

By LES FARR

With Balgownie and Blacktown both losing last weekend, Yugal have now gone to a 3-point lead in the competition, and with only seven rounds to go are in a formidable position.

The position at the bottom of the table, however, is still very open with only one point separating four teams and the eventual candidate for Third Division is hard to pick.

Balgownie lost their unbeaten home record going down to Granville:—

BALGOWNIE v. G'VILLE 1:2

Balgownie, well on top in the first half, took an interval lead of 1:0 with a good goal by McWatters and looked all set for a win.

Granville had other ideas, however, and two goals by Donaldson in the first 15 minutes of the second half gave them the initiative and the lead, which they held till the end for a good win.

Blacktown's promotion chances slumped when they lost to Toongabbie in a match which ended:—

T'GABBIE v. B'TOWN 2:1

Playing more determined football in this local Derby, Toongabbie went ahead when Cosgrove scored with a neat header.

Dochnall equalised for Blacktown direct from a free kick 30 yards out midway through the second half.

But two minutes later Cosgrove restored the lead with a good goal that gave both points to the "Gabbie", taking them out of the relegation zone.

Yugal ran riot against Concordia in one sided match that resulted:—

CONCORDIA v. YUGAL 0:8

After two goals by Grbavac in the first 20 minutes it was all Yugal and it was only a matter of how many goals they would win by.

Nincevich added a third before the interval, and in the second half Ivanisevich claimed four goals and Nincevich got another to bring the final tally to eight.

Julia raised their hopes of avoiding relegation with a sound win against Lidcombe:—

JULIA v. LIDCOMBE 3:1

Two new forwards, Bradey and Ilinsky, put punch into the Julia attack, with Bradey the schemer.

All the goals were scored in the first half, the first two by Pagano and Ilinsky, to put Julia two-up.

Willot reduced the arrears for Lidcombe, but a goal by Torcello for Julia gave them a winning lead and their second victory this season.

Corinthians adapted themselves better to the wet conditions against Manly, to win:—

CORINTH'S v. MANLY 2:1

Corinthians did most of the attacking in this game and went ahead after five minutes with a goal by Selley and led 1:0 at half time.

For the first 25 minutes of the second half Manly were pinned in their own half then broke away and Croal got the equaliser.

Corinthians got the winning gogal five minutes from the end when Selley scored from a narrow angle.

The match between Sutherland and Croatia was abandoned five minutes before the end the score then being:—

SUTHERL'D v. CROATIA 1:0

After a goal-less first half Chapman gave Sutherland the lead midway through the second half.

Five minutes from time the referee awarded a penalty to Sutherland for a foul by Cavovic of Croatia and this player, disputing the decision, mishandled the referee who subsequently abandoned the game.

THIS WEEKEND

Granville on a winning run, should beat Lidcombe at Mona Park.

Yugal play Toongabbie at Concord Oval and should win comfortably.

Balgownie travel to Sydney to play Croatia at Jubilee Oval and should win a close game.

The relegation battle between Manly and Concordia at Dee Why should end in a draw.

Another draw should be the result of the match between Sutherland-St. George and Corinthians at Miranda.

Blacktown, at home to Julia, should gain a narrow win.

Faulder Benefit Fund

On July 7, 1961, death stole one of the most unselfish officials known to soccer.

George Faulder had toiled hard and long to bring the benefits of the code to the youth of this State.

He twinkled through every phase of the game, always leaving it in a better state than before he began.

To the little Saturday morning footballers in the large Granville area, Mr. Faulder was the whole football movement rolled into one man.

A Special Meeting held at the Granville School of Arts by the Granville Districts Junior Soccer Football Association on Wednesday, July 19, was attended by all clubs affiliated with the Association, the Referees' Association, the N.S.W. Junior Board, and Federation clubs and officials.

It was decided to launch a benefit fund, and various steps were suggested to make the fund a success.

All junior clubs affiliated with the Granville District Junior Association were given the go-ahead to arrange functions to make contributions to the fund.

To climax the fund a special day was suggested with a Committee of Ways and Means to cover the day and the approach to other affiliated Associations, and members of the busines, sporting, and social circles which could be interested.

All clubs and other interested people should make their contribution payable to the G. Faulder Benefit Fund (the name in which the account has been opened) and forward the money to the Secretary of the GDJSFA., Mr. A. Forbes, 16 Chiswick Road, Auburn.

Fair go for Third Division

"We are the forgotten ones". This phrase is often heard amongst officials of the Third Division clubs.

They might not be alltogether forgotten but certainly they are not being given a fair go.

We all firmly believe in democracy, where every individual has the right of a vote. but this does not apply to the clubs in the Third Division of the Federation.

Although they are part and parcel of this organisation, they have no right of a vote even in matters involving their own division and their very own teams.

Third Division teams, nowadays are producing a very high standard of soccer.

I sincerely think that if some of the First and Second Division voters had a look at the play in this division they would be surprised to find that the level of soccer produced is excellent.

However, this sudden improvement in the standard was only brought upon by expensive transfers of first class players and it is costing these clubs hundreds of pounds.

In this division, to run a decent team, it costs approximately £30 a week.

This is only average.

I know clubs in this division whose teams are costing them £60 a week.

This is a lot of money in any currency for teams run on a very limited revenue, with no gatemoney and very few paying supporters.

Faced with these problems the officials of these clubs, having no voting powers themselves, look for consideration and help from the senior voting clubs when they come to matters like: —

Why the Third Division clubs are not allowed to take part in the elimination round of the Ampol Cup, like the F.A. Cup in England?

Why are they only allowed 28 players for two teams when the Second Division clubs are eligible to have 33 players on their books?

Let's not forget that teams like APIA, Budapest, Polonia, Pan Hellenic, Hakoah and Sydney Austral were all in lower divisions before they made it to the top.

The Third Division clubs are not asking too much when they ask for what they so richly deserve — more consideration where administrative matters concerning this division are concerned.

L. Dimech, Wentworthville.

Homesick for "Soccer World"

As a former resident of Sydney and ardent follower of soccer, any news bad or good about the game always used to interest me very much.

Your publication, "Soccer World" or the "Green Paper", used to provide it to me every Friday when I used to live in Sydney.

Now, I am resident of San Francisco, California, and without your news concerning soccer in Sydney and its progress I find it very hard to get used to it.

Loving the game as much as I do I refuse to be without "Soccer World".

Would you be so kind and send me all copies of 1961 by ordinary mail and the current issues by air mail each week?

I would be very gratefull to you if you would help me out in these matters, as I feel quite lonesome without my weekly companion — the "Soccer World"

Michael Staruch, San Francisco, Calif. USA.

— Thank you for your kind letter. Your wich is our command. — Ed.

Editor replies:

J. I. Padstow. Thank you for your letter. We will notify the player concerned, George Czubala, and assure you that it will be most gratifying to him to know, that your son has picked him as his "hero".

Emile B., Corrimal. Thank you for your drawings. We will try to incorporate something like this in the near future.

TWO SIDES TO A MEDAL

A "crumb" for North

From PAUL MACKENZIE

Are we in the lonely North expected to remove our hat, pull our forelock and say "Thank'e, Sir" for having been thrown a crumb — or should it be two crumbs — from the State selectors' table by the inclusion of two Northern players in the State side to visit Brisbane this weekend?

Two players, indeed! Two, mark you, out of 13 in a side from which players from three top Sydney clubs are conspicuous by their absence.

How did the State selectors arrive at the decision that there are, in the North, two players good enough to be in the State side, for a majority of the committee has not been within coo-ee of a Northern ground this season to know.

Sam Delves, President of the Northern League, is the Northern representative on the committee and he frequently sees matches in Sydney.

But the Sydney members of the panel would not, I suggest, know the names of more than a few Northern players, let alone have any idea of the ability of those playing in this area.

Northern enthusiasts are not mild in their criticism of Sydney clubs which have refused to release players or of the Federation which sits back and takes it.

The excuse, as we read it, is that the clubs have important premiership matches to play.

What do Sydney officials think is happening here?

The two players to go North with the NSW side are Jack O'Brien, of Wallsend, and Albert Simmonds, of Adamstown.

Adamstown and Wallsend meet this weekend in a match which could decide the title.

And did their clubs want to withdraw them from the State?

Not a bit of it; instead they are making sure that they have everything they might want for the short trip.

Northern enthusiasts are not slow to realise that the absence of the State selectors from this district during the season is according to the happenings of other seasons.

While the North has its own League, it still belongs to the Federation of Soccer Leagues, but might as well be somewhere in the Sahara instead of little more than a stone's throw from Sydney, for we never see a Federation official.

Is it any wonder that Northerners are convinced that they are not wanted when they are so continually and so studiously avoided?

Gratitude unlimited

From LEN TODD

We are all agog with excitement now that we know the NSW team due here next Sunday will be a reasonably strong one, and we shall be sure to give your boys a great welcome.

We shall be all out to defeat them, but should your boys be successful you can depend on us offering you our sincere congratulations.

We certainly will not offer any excuses.

Our main wish is that the better team may win, and the game played in the true sporting traditions of our round ball code.

It is the playing of the game, not the winning, that really counts.

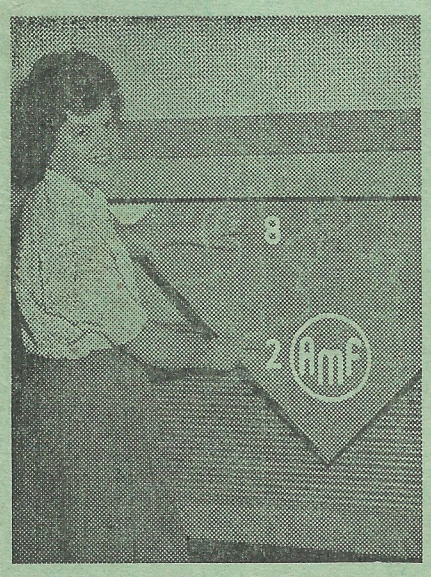
Better Bowling with AMF.*

* Initials of the American Machine & Foundry Company, originator of automatic tenpin bowling.

NO. 21. THE "MAGIC TRIANGLE"



The "Magic Triangle" Pindicator shows the bowler left the 2 and 8 pins standing after the first ball.

With the development of the AMF Automatic Pinspotter, bowling is not only more enjoyable and easier, but higher scores have resulted.

This amazing machine sets the pins up automatically, clears away knocked-down pins and returns the ball to your hand. The Pinspotter's cycle of operation gives a rhythmic quality to the game, which is all-important in reaching higher scores.

The Pindicator indicates the first ball of a frame by illuminating a small triangle on the left of the screen, records a strike by illuminating a cross (X). If the first ball leaves pins standing, their numbers and positions are indicated by illuminated figures. When the second ball is ready to be bowled, a triangle on the right side of the screen is illuminated.

If a bowler commits a foul by sliding across the foul line, the Radaray Foul Detector cycles the Pinspotter and all pins left standing are swept away. This only operates during league play. In open play it pays to observe the start line so that you get used to the correct delivery.

Remember, Bowling's best with AMF.
